

Speech and Language Services

We are excited to provide therapy services for students with identified speech and language needs. If speech and language therapy is included in a child's individualized plan, a speech and language pathologist will work with your child's classroom teacher to coordinate and provide therapeutic supports within the general education classroom or a therapy setting. Additionally, the speech and language pathologist can help classroom teachers provide accommodations and supports within the classroom to help your child experience success and access instruction.