Middle Schoolers Challenged Through Monthly Chapels

Twice each month, there is a chapel just for the middle school students. Various topics have been focused on so far this year, such as: prayer, using your gifts for God, and giving thanks in all circumstances. In the first half of the year, we were blessed to have some outside speakers come in to challenge the students. This included Steve Miller, pastor at Village Church in Dyer, Jim Hollandoner, pastor at Munster Church, and Lance Davids, teacher and director of spiritual development at Illiana Christian High School.

In this second semester, there is a chapel committee, made up of 11 students who have chosen this as their 3rd quarter exploratory. Those students have been very involved in the recent chapels, speaking and performing skits. The two chapels in February included “man on the street” interviews, asking these questions: “Do you believe you are saved and going to heaven and why?” and “Who is Jesus?” After portraying many misguided answers to those questions, students were challenged to think of how they would answer those questions. A few students volunteered to come up and answer those questions right in front of chapel. But all students were asked to write their answers to those questions afterward, in their post-chapel homeroom time. Parents, these questions could lead to a good supper table discussion at your home.

February Food Drive

CPCS will again be collecting food items this month for the Food Bank of Northwest Indiana. 6th graders are asked to donate canned fruit and 7th and 8th graders may bring in peanut butter. The food drive runs through February 26. Thank you for helping us minister to the needy in our community!
